The Honorable John Conyers
Chairman
Committee on Judiciary
U. S. House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Mr. Chairman,

I am writing to express the Administration's support of an overall increase in the base salaries of Article III judges. After discussions with the Chief Justice, we believe that the issue of judicial pay must be addressed to ensure a strong and independent judiciary.

The President agrees with the Chief Justice that as judicial pay continues to decline in real terms, it raises concerns over the ability to recruit from a highly qualified and diverse group of applicants, as well as the ability to retain quality judges.

While direct compensation is only one of many factors that influence the career decisions of Federal judges, we believe that it is too low given current circumstances. We support Congressional efforts to provide an appropriate pay level that would facilitate the continued recruitment and retention of highly qualified and talented individuals.

Sincerely,
